Barrett Rich, Republican candidate for State Representative District 94, spoke about the Economy Monday at the Fayette County Rotary meeting in Somerville. Rich spoke about the struggling economy, jobs, and rising gas prices. Rich also addressed questions from Rotary members about alternative sources of energy and government spending.

“As State Representative, I will oppose a state income tax or property tax. That’s why I have signed the ‘No New Taxes’ pledge from Americans for Tax Reform. In order to bring more jobs to Fayette County, I believe we should offer tax breaks to businesses that hire local workers when relocating to Tennessee. I also oppose any new regulations that increase the cost of doing business in our state, and I will work closely with local leaders to attract new businesses and to retain those already here,” Rich said.

This speech concluded Rich’s series of policy speeches which also included Crime, Healthcare and Taxes. Barrett Rich has been endorsed by Representative Dolores Gresham and former Governor Winfield Dunn.
